Azim Premji University (University) has a clear purpose – to make significant contributions towards a just, equitable, humane and sustainable society. The University attempts to do this through the development of talent and the creation of knowledge which can facilitate improvement in education and allied development areas.

We invite bright young scholars who resonate with the purpose of the University to join us as Lecturers / Senior Lecturers. Broadly the areas of work are in Sociology, Psychology, Philosophy, Economics, History, Science and Mathematics

The selected candidates can look forward to a vibrant, interdisciplinary academic environment with great potential for personal and professional growth through teaching, research, field practice and the opportunity to directly contribute to social change. They will work closely with senior faculty members and contribute to the following areas:

1. Contribute to teaching and work with senior faculty in all academic activities - Course design and development, material preparation, class transaction, tutorial sessions, student assessments and other interactions
2. Student mentorship and advisory services
3. Pursue independent / collaborative research working with the state and district level field institutions of the foundation or other organizations. The 'University Research Center' facilitates all research across the University and offers scope for research across a wide spectrum of areas
4. Design of short and long term field internship projects for students, internship projects mentoring and related assessments
5. Design and delivery of short term courses for in service professionals in the field of Education and Development
6. Contribute to various Institution building initiatives – Participation in various academic (Course level and program level reviews, specialization design and course development, writing centre etc.), University publications, portals and other initiatives (E.g. Youth engagement programmes, arts, sports and cultural activities etc.)
Desired Candidate profile:

1. Ph.D. (just completed/ in the process of completion)
2. M. Phil / Master’s Degree with university level teaching experience