Kingdom from a national point of view. India’s and the UK’s unique national importance means they should consider each other’s interests. (India: The Times of India, 2023).

Four SC verdicts that will change the way we vote

Bhargavan Mohapatra | via

New Delhi: The Election Commission (EC) on Friday said it would straightaway implement the Supreme Court’s judgment that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

Architect of NOTA hails SC judgment

New Delhi: Former chief election commissioner (CEC) Shri KM Ali Khan welcomed the Supreme Court’s judgment that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

‘Pressure to field better netas’

Anil Ansari

New Delhi: The People’s Democratic Party (PDP) that had filed the PIL demanded that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

EC: Will implement order immediately

New Delhi: The Election Commission (EC) said it would straightaway implement the Supreme Court’s July 17 order that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

Road to reforms

The Times of India

India is fast becoming the world’s heart disease capital. It is the No. 1 killer for both men and women. The best way out is to act at an early stage by investing in regular Preventive Health Checkups. Indus Health Plus extends a helping hand, in your journey to better health!

For more information, log on to www.indushealthplus.com to get a Free Health Checkup.

Verdict a shot in the arm for vote rights activists

• Continued from page 1

T he verdict is a shot in the arm for vote rights activists who are already in the process of organizing a countrywide campaign to launch a new movement to end the de facto electoral disenfranchisement of voters. The Supreme Court’s judgment that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

Architect of NOTA hails SC judgment

New Delhi: Former chief election commissioner (CEC) Shri KM Ali Khan welcomed the Supreme Court’s judgment that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

‘Pressure to field better netas’

Anil Ansari

New Delhi: The People’s Democratic Party (PDP) that had filed the PIL demanded that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

EC: Will implement order immediately

New Delhi: The Election Commission (EC) said it would straightaway implement the Supreme Court’s July 17 order that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

Road to reforms

The Times of India

India is fast becoming the world’s heart disease capital. It is the No. 1 killer for both men and women. The best way out is to act at an early stage by investing in regular Preventive Health Checkups. Indus Health Plus extends a helping hand, in your journey to better health!

For more information, log on to www.indushealthplus.com to get a Free Health Checkup.

Verdict a shot in the arm for vote rights activists

• Continued from page 1

T he verdict is a shot in the arm for vote rights activists who are already in the process of organizing a countrywide campaign to launch a new movement to end the de facto electoral disenfranchisement of voters. The Supreme Court’s judgment that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

Architect of NOTA hails SC judgment

New Delhi: Former chief election commissioner (CEC) Shri KM Ali Khan welcomed the Supreme Court’s judgment that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

‘Pressure to field better netas’

Anil Ansari

New Delhi: The People’s Democratic Party (PDP) that had filed the PIL demanded that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

EC: Will implement order immediately

New Delhi: The Election Commission (EC) said it would straightaway implement the Supreme Court’s July 17 order that enabling voters to mark a ‘None of the Above’ (NOTA) option on voting machines. The button can be given to a voter to mark the NOTA option in a poll in a case forvalidating the NOTA votes. The EC welcomed the Supreme Court’s order that he/she needs to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, the NOTA vote not to be recorded in the EVM on survey. The EC had, on Friday, filed a review petition in the Supreme Court against the July 17 order which had upheld the NOTA option. The EVMs will be deployed at polling stations in the next round of elections the first being Assembly poll to five states due in November.

Road to reforms

The Times of India

India is fast becoming the world’s heart disease capital. It is the No. 1 killer for both men and women. The best way out is to act at an early stage by investing in regular Preventive Health Checkups. Indus Health Plus extends a helping hand, in your journey to better health!

For more information, log on to www.indushealthplus.com to get a Free Health Checkup.